

What Is The Difference Between Man And The Animal

Difference No. 2:

An animal cannot choose. He is in a groove, a certain pattern of action from which he cannot depart.

Starve a dog for a few days. Put the meat before him.

He must eat. He doesn't stay away because he decided to become a vegetarian or go on a diet. Man could.

If we have any sense we don't put dogs in jail or pin medals on them.

Why? Because they have no free will and are not responsible for their acts.

So, man has free will. Animals don't.

So difference No. 2 between man and the animal is FREE WILL.
