

How do you know there is a God?

The argument to the Necessary Being

See this chain

It's hanging in the air. If we want to keep it there, we better hang it on a hook.

Close your eyes... and imagine that you are not here

I am not here

The world is not here

Nothing is here – absolute nothing

The point is – IF NOTHING IS HERE TO BEGIN WITH, CAN ANYTHING EVER BE?

From nothing comes nothing,
If there was nothing in the beginning,
There IS nothing now.
To be consistent, an atheist cannot be content
To deny the existence of God
He must deny the existence of ANYTHING.

No - You cannot be
I cannot be the world cannot be nothing can be

But, if you are convinced that you really are here – that I am here
That the world is here – That anything is here

If you are convinced that the hook is necessary to hang the chain –
If you are convinced that from nothing comes nothing, then you must be convinced that in the first place, there was...

A NECESSARY BEING

This Necessary Being has to be a personal being because He has a mind (see next argument) – and – because persons are the effects of the First Cause and the Cause cannot be less than the effects.

That Necessary Being we call - God

Visit our website to see more free bulletin inserts

Copyright 2007 By Faith Media, Milford, MA