

What Kind of God is God?

If God is the Necessary Being, He must be Eternal, without beginning and without end,
- for He is necessarily what He is..

We can figure out a little bit more about God by using this principle, -

You cannot squeeze blood from a turnip, -
You cannot give what you have not, -

Look at the things that God has made, -

They have good points, perfections, -
They got them from God, -
But no one can give what he has not, -

So, these perfections must be His in the fullest measure.

If they are good

He is Goodness Itself

If they are beautiful

He is Beauty Itself

If they are powerful -

He is Omnipotent

If they are orderly and complicated -

He is Wisdom Itself

If they are persons -

He is a Personal God

(What about evil in the things of creation? – Evil is only the absence of a good that should be there. When we blame a fault in a thing we praise the nature of the thing in which the fault resides. We praise the nature by the very act of blaming the defect in the nature. E.g. blindness is the absence of sight, sickness the absence of health)
